Description

The difference between average and astonishing will never be more apparent in the shape of the Armstrong Sofa from Andrew Martin. A truly iconic piece, this sofa deserves a place in your home interior.

Finished in aged chocolate brown leather, this vintage style sofa has squared off deep button and pleat detail complete with bronze stud design across the arms, while the distressed finish offers an antique appeal to the sofa. Turning into a couch potato will never have looked so stylish with this sofa in the room.

The straight lines and shape of the Andrew Martin Armstrong Sofa combined with the pleat detail also give it a contemporary edge and a modern take on a more traditional style of sofa.

It's this fusion of contemporary and traditional styles in the manufacturing of this sofa that makes it perfect for both current and classic design schemes alike.
