Description

Diesel Tool pendant lamp is derived from unique shapes and materials - associated with the pull of technology in its rawest state and the rough vintage of a factory and workshop environment. Designed with a single black rubber body it is also reminiscent of a foundry mould or a piece of engineering machinery which gives it a real industrial feel. The light emitted from this piece is accurate and direct and is as the name suggests a true lighting tool. Available in 2 sizes to suit your interior with maximum 200cm cable drop.

Large Requires halogen 1x60w G9 bulb (not included) small requires halogen 1x35w GU10 PAR16 (not included)
