Description

Effortlessly combining a unique idea with the simplicity of creating a table with minimal design and physical lightness, Gubi has produced the magnificent Y! Table. Created in collaboration with Henning Larsen Architects, the Y! Table will make a luxurious and contemporary addition to any interior space in the home.

The idea behind the table design was to create a piece that didn't include architraves running along the edge of the tabletop. The table leg is positioned towards the centre of the top, offering the captivating impression that the tabletop is floating in midair.

The table is finished with black laminate top while the table legs are thin-walled precision steel tubes that are lacquered or chromated. While simple in theory and offering every day practicality, the Y! Table never loses any of its stylish appeal and is a table you will definitely want as part of your interior scheme.

The table is available in one of five different sizes, allowing you to pick the one that best complements and enhances the surrounding interior. Make the minimal or maximum impact on the room with one of these lavish tables from Gubi.
