Description

Everyone needs a shining light to look down and keep watch over them, - and with the Type 75 Wall Light from Anglepoise there's no better than this.

The muted aluminium of the lamp provides a crisp yet contemporary look to the small wall fitting. The light is perfect for highlighting key spaces in the interior and for use domestically and commercially.

For the best in understated wall lights that echoes a classic shape, the Type 75 Wall Light from Anglepoise is the ideal solution.

From the original Anglepoise lamp which was created in by George Cowardine, the brand remains as popular as ever as it adapts to modern and contemporary times while still retaining a strong design ethos that remains true to the original lamp of 1932.
