Description

Lacquered metal sculptural table lamp in a choice of colourways. Invite the global appeal of the & Tradition FlowerPot Table Lamp VP3 into your home.

Designed by Verner Panton in 1969, this cultural design icon is synonymous with a generation in search of a more open, progressive mindset.

Considered one of the most daring designers of the 20th century, Panton's semi-circular lacquered steel construction was originally created to provide a psychedelic colour pop for futuristic furniture fairs and trend-setting design schemes.

Now found in some of the world's trendiest bars, restaurants and modern art galleries, this internationally recognised design truly transcends time for a style statement that is guaranteed to never go out of style.

Use to brighten a lost corner of the home and combine with an And Tradition side table to provide the perfect pedestal.

Panton summed up his iconic design himself when he said, "The main purpose of my work is to provide people into using their imagination and to make their surroundings more exciting..."
