Description

Style will be in the air with the Flos Zeppelin pendant. This indoor chandelier provides diffused light and casts a commanding presence in the room.

The light has an internal steel structure that forms the arms of the chandelier. The structure is sprayed with the unique cocoon resin that creates the diffuser that has a clear spray on finish. The structure is covered in a white powder coating of threads to create a cocoon effect for the exterior.

Emitting a soft glow, the Zeppelin uses a single bulb within a crystal glass sphere that creates a dazzling sparkle effect.

The light will be an ideal addition to the dining room or study of the home.

The Zeppelin is available in two sizes.

Mix the lights for a complete look to your lighting arrangement.

From Flos and designed by Marcel Wanders - co-founder of Dutch design house, Moooi - give this timeless and illustrious lighting solution a space in your home interior.
