Description

Iconic Verner Panton Lacquered steel flowerpot pendant lamp which has been reinvented with fashionable copper metal finish. Originally designed in the late 1960s in the same year that Stanley Kubrick featured the future of 2001 using Panton's iconic chair, the original version of this colourful lamp was hanging in bars and restaurants and soon homes around Europe. The flower pot with its 2 semi circular spheres facing each other has proved its lasting design quality and is just as stylish today as it was then. Requires 1 x E27 bulb max 40 W or 7 W low energy bulb (not included). 3 metre fabric cord.
