Description

Sit high on your perch with the Muuto Nerd Bar Stool. This stool comes in a number of finishes with some made of natural oak and others made from lacquered ash wood. It features a simple design that remains true to Danish design principles. With rounded legs, a smooth seating surface with back and straight line detailing, the shape and look of the stool, as well as the curved plywood shell, attracts the user to sit on the stool at several different angles. Offering optimum comfort and support, this stool offers a stylish seat in the room with a contemporary edge. The Muuto Nerd Bar Stool is available in two sizes, each of which comes in a variety of different colour finishes. Group one size and finish for consistency or mix things up by creating your own unique seating arrangement with various sizes and colours.
