Description

Polyhedron inspired nickel finished suspended ceiling light.
Illuminate the beauty of your interior with the Eichholtz Matrix Lantern Pendant Light.

Inspired by the geometric form of the polyhedron, it features a captivating three dimensional shape creating the illusion of no beginning and no end.

A refreshing alternative to shaded pendant lamps, the structure allows light to filter generously into your interior space, perfect for accenting your dark entrance hallway and setting the style tone for the rest of your home.

Completed in a polished nickel finish it is a glamorous addition that will elevate your monochrome interior in style.

Please note: Due to the artisan production process used for Eichholtz products, no two items are exactly alike and variations are to be joyfully celebrated as this is a truly unique addition for your style-conscious interior.
