Description

Contemporary plastic shell dining chair with oak legs. Complete your dining room in true Scandic style with the Normann Copenhagen Form Chair - Walnut. A rebirth of the traditional shell chair, Form is designed by Simon Legald to create a more unified aesthetic. The moulded plastic seat and frame of walnut join together using a unique cup system - a fine example of the superior craftsmanship that Normann Copenhagen are renowned for. Form is characterised by its contoured shape, with the shell seat providing great back support - ergonomically designed for a comfortable seating experience. Soft and welcoming, Form will inspire a design dialogue between guests at your next dinner party with its modern-meets minimalist expression - guaranteed to never go out of style.
