Description

Contemporary oak and linoleum square dining table. Embrace a minimalist aesthetic with the Normann Copenhagen Form Table. Designed by Simon Legald, it is developed from his love of uniting innovative production methods with high quality craftsmanship. Square in shape, Form is constructed from a blend of natural oak and contemporary linoleum - a high spec. combination of materials which together form an exclusive interior aesthetic. Made to last, the matt linoleum is pleasant to the touch and easy to maintain, perfect for everyday dining. Seamlessly constructed using Normann Copenhagen's cup system, the lacquered oak legs join with the table top to achieve an understated, uniform look. With a clean design and rounded edges, it exudes the superior craftsmanship that Normann Copenhagen are renowned for, making it an iconic and refreshingly contemporary addition for the heart of your interior space.
