Description

Lacquered ash veneer dining chair with powder coated steel frame. Just, put simply is a clean, understated stackable shell chair. Gracefully designed from every angle, the frame is set into the chair's moulded shell with a tapering thickness for a welcoming and characterful expression. Minimalist with real contemporary appeal, the shell seat is made to last, sculpted from a moulded ash veneer. A strong steel frame is mounted to the seat by slotting seamlessly into the millings underneath the shell. Honest and timeless, it will fit effortlessly into most furniture schemes and will combine wonderfully with an accenting Normann Copenhagen dining table to complete the look in style.
