Description

Polycarbonate pendant lamp with lattice effect shade. Created by Spanish architect and designer Patricia Urquiola, exclusively for Flos, the name 'Tatou' is French for armadillo - a creature celebrated for its protective leather shell. Further inspired by the metal buckles of Japanese samurai armour, the Tatou Pendant Lamp is an iconic addition of contemporary style that is perfect for your dining room or entrance hallway. Skilfully sculpted from a fusion of methacrylate and polycarbonate, four individual sections create Tatou's curved pendant lamp shade. Layered around an uplighter diffuser, the lattice effect shell prevents glare as meditative light journeys below. Available in a choice of colours, combine with accenting Tatou additions from Flos designer lighting collection for a layered ambience in the heart of your design scheme. Requires: 1 x MAX 70W E27 HSGS light bulb (bulb not included) Weight: 1.20kg Approx. Suspension: 4.15m cable
